Hambourg, October 20.

WE have Letters from Stockholm of the 6th Inſtant, which relate, that ſince the Finniſh Troops were commanded to march thither from Helſingland, the Inhabitants of that Province and Geſtricia agreed to form themſelves into Regiments, and made choice of ſome of the Gentlemen of their Provinces to head them, in caſe the Muſcovites invaded them; but as ſoon as the King of Sweden had Notice of it, he diſapproved their Proceedings, and reprimanded the Governours ſharply for ſuffering ſuch Incroachments on his Royal Authority. The Embargo laid on Shipping at all the Ports of that Kingdom, is not yet extended to Gottenburg; but by the laſt Letters from that Place there is little Likelyhood any Ships will very ſuddenly venture from thence, becauſe if the Capers only follow them out of the Harbour, and bring them back, they will certainly be made Prize. And as to the Packet-Boats which ſome Perſons have undertaken to provide for conveying Letters between Gottenburg and Amſterdam, we have already had an Inſtance how little they are to be depended on; for the ſecond that came from Amſterdam, was chaſed and boarded ſome few Leagues off Gottenburg, by a Privateer of that Place with a Daniſh Flag, and the Letters were thrown into the Sea. The King of Sweden quitted Swinſund on the 28th paſt; after he had cauſed the Bridge to be broken down, and a ſmall Fort to be thrown up at that Place to prevent the Danes from laying another. The Count de la Gardie, whom the King has made a Lieutenant-General, was left to command at that Paſs with four Battallions of Infantry, and about 1000 Horſe and Dragoons. Theſe Letters relate likewiſe, that on the 12th of September, his Swediſh Majeſty, without any Perſon to attend him, came to viſit the Princeſs his Siſter at Wadſtena, and remained with her till next Day in the Evening: During his Majeſty's Stay there, he was thrice in private Converſation with her Royal Highneſs for about two Hours each Time; and he ſhewed ſo great an Affection and Tenderneſs for her, that it was obſerved he ſhed Tears at Parting: The Night his Majeſty continued there, he lay according to his Cuſtom on Straw, with his Clothes and Boots on, the Princeſs not being able to prevail with him to make uſe of a Bed. On the 13th his Majeſty went from Wadſtena to Lund in Schonen, and thence to Elſingbourg, accompanied by the Prince of Heſſe, and a great Number of Generals and Officers; after a ſhort Stay, they rode along the Shore to Landſcrona, and thence to Malmoe, to view the Lines that have this Summer been made between thoſe Places. The King fixed his Head Quarters at Lund, whither all the Regiments that were to compoſe the Swediſh Army were ordered, and a Camp was marked out for them on the great Plain near that Place. His Majeſty likewiſe ordered the Chancerie, and all the Counſellors of State, to remove from Yſtadt to Lund. An Order of his Swediſh Majeſty had been publiſhed throughout the Kingdom, requiring every whole Farm to deliver into the Provincial Magazines, 3 Barrels of Rye (or for Want of Rye 6 Barrels of Barley) one Barrel and a half of Oats, and 800 Pounds of Hay. This Contribution amounts in ſome Provinces to twice as much as the Peaſants whole Taxes beſides for the Year. Juſt before the King left Swinſund, he cauſed Letters to be written to all the Courts of Admiralty, wherein he tells them, that notwithſtanding they are ſtill ſtrictly to obſerve the Edict about Privateers, yet having thought fit to impower Baron Gortz to grant Paſsports to ſuch Ships as he had good Aſſurance were not deſigned for thoſe Ports which his Majeſty cannot permit any Commerce with, the Courts of Admiralty are therefore to reſpect the ſaid Paſſes, as if the Ships were actually provided with all the Documents preſcribed by the foreſaid Edict. The Princeſs Royal having ſet out from Wadſtena in order to return to Stockholm, was expected there on the 7th Inſtant.

Copenhagen, Oct. 17. On the 14th ſeveral of the Ruſſian Gallies and Tranſports ſailed from hence, but the Wind coming contrary, they were obliged to return to an Anchor again. The Czar is ſtill here, till the Tranſports can ſail, and then 'tis ſaid he will go by the Way of Hanover to Holland. Yeſterday an Engliſh Runner arrived here from Coningsberg: She had been 10 Days in her Paſſage, wherein by different Winds ſhe made great Traverſes, and altho' in Sight of Bornholm the laſt two Days, ſhe neither ſaw nor heard any thing of the Swediſh Fleet; ſo that 'tis hoped the

Trade

Trade will come ſafely down the Baltick, the Ships from Riga being to ſail as this Day; and while the Wind continues South-Eaſterly and keeps the Fleet here in Port, it will do the ſame by the Swedes. We have an Account that a Swediſh Man of War from Gottenburg of 50 Guns, has been lately loſt on the Coaſt of Norway.

Berlin, Oct. 17. The Queen of Pruſſia arrived here from Hanover on the 13th. Their Pruſſian Majeſties are now at Charlottenbourg, whither the King is retired to receive the Communion to Morrow, and will go to Brandenbourg on the 19th to review ſome of his Troops in thoſe Quarters. Laſt Night M. Manteuffel received a Courier with Letters from Warſaw of the 9th Inſtant, adviſing that the two chief Points of the Evacuation of the Saxons, and Diſſolution of the Confederacy had been ſigned, and the latter ratified by the Marſhals of the Confederates; and that it was thought the Armiſtice would be renewed till the reſt could be finiſhed; but that the Iſſue was ſtill uncertain, ſince M. Brantiski, Marſhal of the Confederate Army, had paſſed the River Bug on the 3d to join M. Gniaſdowski, and it was thought would ſtill endeavour to revenge the Defeat M. Gniaſdowski had received on the 5th Inſtant from General Boſen near Kowallwo, where the Poles and Lithuanians were about 14000 Men, and the Saxons near 7000; the firſt loſt near 4000 Men in the Action, being moſt of the Lithuanian Foot, with ſeveral hundred Saxons, ſome Deſerters, and other Priſoners forced into the Service, particularly 300 of Caſtell's Regiment taken at Poſen. A great many of them were cut to Pieces before they were known, M. Gniaſdowski to prevent it having obliged them to turn their Coats the wrong Side outwards. On the 6th General Boſen came to Thorn, and canton ed his Troops in that Neighbourhood. The King's Departure from Warſaw had been again delayed for ſome Days. Mr. Whitworth, Envoy Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary of the King of Great Britain, returned hither on the 14th from Hanover. Sir Richard Vernon, His Britannick Majeſty's Envoy Extraordinary to the King of Poland, arrived here on the 14th, and ſet out for Gohr this Afternoon. The Counteſs of Coſſel has been ſeized at Hall by the King of Pruſſia's Orders, but as 'tis ſaid at the Inſtances of the Court of Poland.

Hague, Oct. 27. It was expected, that according to Cuſtom the Seſſions of the States of the Province of Holland would have ended on Saturday laſt; it ſeldom happening that this Aſſembly continues to ſit after the laſt Day of the 2d Week: But thoſe States re-aſſembled to Day, and 'tis believed will continue their Seſſion till Saturday next. As for the extraordinary Aſſembly of the Deputies of the Seven Provinces, 'tis thought it will be held next Month. Laſt Night the Poſt from the North of Germany brought Advice, that by Expreſſes 'twas known the Town and Caſtle of Temeſwaer were ſurrendred to the Imperialiſts at Diſcretion on the 12th Inſtant. 'Tis adviſed from Paris, that the Pretender is very ill at Avignon.

Weſtminſter, Oct. 16. This Day the Parliament met, and was further Prorogued to the 20th of November next.

Whitehall, October 1716.

Whereas the Ships of the Emperor of Morocco, and particularly thoſe belonging to the Port of Salley, have, for ſome Time paſt, in breach of the Truce between His Majeſty and the ſaid Emperor, ſeized on ſeveral Ships and Veſſels of His Majeſty's Subjects which they have met with in their Cruize, and ſeveral of them near the Weſtern Iſlands; which Ships and Veſſels they have carried into their Ports, and ſent the Companies which belonged to them into Slavery: To prevent which Piracies for the future, as much as poſſibly may be, His Majeſty has appointed ſeveral of His Ships to Cruize againſt the aforeſaid Rovers of Barbary, and to ſeize on them by way of Reprizals, until the ſaid Emperor ſhall be obliged to make Satisfaction for the Injuries which have been done, as aforeſaid, and to renew the Treaty with His Majeſty: Notice is hereby given of this unjuſtifiable Proceeding of the Moors, that ſo the Maſters of all Ships and Veſſels of His Majeſty's Subjects, which trade in the Way of the aforeſaid Pyratical Rovers, may take all poſſible Care to avoid falling into their Hands.
